

MEBA Pension Trust
Money Purchase Benefit Plan

Build a retirement with a plan that's engineered for the finest maritime workforce.

Your MEBA Pension Trust Money Purchase Benefit Plan (MPB) will transition to a new provider of recordkeeping services — Fidelity Investments.

This transition guide will help you understand what is changing and what is staying the same.

Welcome to Fidelity Investments: A guide to the transition ahead

The Board of Trustees of the MEBA Money Purchase Benefit Plan (MPB) is committed to offering you resources to help you reach your retirement goals — and along with Fidelity Investments®, we're here to help you at every step in your journey.

As you may know, Fidelity currently serves as the provider of recordkeeping services for the MEBA 401(k) Plan. And we are now pleased to announce that we will be transitioning recordkeeping services of your MPB from your current provider (Vanguard) to Fidelity, effective December 1, 2017.

This transition guide will help you understand what is changing and what is staying the same. Fidelity is available to assist you at every step during and after the transition.

If you have questions or need help, just call a Fidelity Representative at 866-84-UNION (866-848-6466).

To ensure that all information is transferred accurately from your current MPB account at Vanguard to your new MPB account at Fidelity, there will be a period of time when you will be unable to direct or diversify investments in your individual account or obtain a distribution from the Plan. This period during which you will be unable to exercise these rights otherwise available under the Plan is called a "blackout period." Whether or not you are planning retirement in the near future, we encourage you to carefully consider how this "blackout period" period may affect your retirement planning, as well as your overall financial plan. The "blackout period" for the MPB is expected to begin at 4 p.m. Eastern time on November 27, 2017, and is expected to end during the week of December 10, 2017. During these weeks, you can determine whether the "blackout period" has started or ended by calling Fidelity Investments at 866-84-UNION (866-848-6466).

During the "blackout period," you will be unable to direct or diversify the assets held in your MPB account. For this reason, it is very important that you review and consider the appropriateness of your current investments in light of your inability to direct or diversify those investments during the "blackout period." For your long-term retirement security, you should give careful consideration to the importance of a well-balanced and diversified investment portfolio, taking into account all your assets, income, and investments.

Important notice concerning your rights under the MEBA Money Purchase Benefit Plan: This notice is to inform you that the MEBA Money Purchase Benefit Plan will have a "blackout period" when you will be unable to make changes in your individual accounts, or obtain a distribution from the Plan. Please refer to this guide for more details.

Be sure to consider all your available options and the applicable fees and features of each before moving your retirement assets.

Your to-do list

Before November 27, 2017:

- Read this guide carefully, along with any accompanying inserts you may have received.
- View the “Get Ready for the Move to Fidelity” workshop online anytime at your convenience at:
www.brainshark.com/fidelityemg/mpbtransition.
- Review and make any changes to your account before the "blackout period" begins at 4 p.m. Eastern time on November 27, 2017.
- Questions? Call a Fidelity Representative at 866-84-UNION (866-848-6466).

What is a provider of recordkeeping services?

A provider of recordkeeping services is a company that provides services to your retirement plan. These include calculating the value of your retirement account, processing your account transactions, such as new contributions, fund purchases/sales, issuing distribution checks, etc. These companies also provide services such as account statements, customer service support (e.g., phone representatives), providing plan education materials, etc.

What does this mean for me?

Once the transition is complete, you will no longer contact Vanguard for these retirement account services. Fidelity will be the provider of these services to the MPB. You may access your MPB account and get account support with just one call to 866-84-UNION (866-848-6466) or at www.netbenefits.com/meba.

Get ready for the changes ahead

Starting December 1, 2017, Fidelity Investments will become the provider of recordkeeping services for the MPB.

- Page 5 Explore how the MPB will change as a result of the transition, and read important information about your investment options.
- Page 11 Review the key transition dates and take note of services that may be temporarily unavailable during the transition.
- Page 14 Take advantage of the tools and resources to help you make confident investment decisions.

As the MPB transitions to Fidelity, members will retain access to the investment options currently available. Please be sure to read and understand how your investment choices will work.

A Special Note for Former Members, Alternate Payees, and Plan Beneficiaries:

If you are a former member, alternate payee, or beneficiary with an account balance in the Plan, some of the information enclosed may not apply to you. However, you will be affected by the upcoming transition, so please read this material carefully.

How your plans will be structured

The MPB and MEBA 401(k) Plan are important benefit programs, and the Board of Trustees continuously seeks to ensure you have the information, resources, and support to help you make decisions with confidence.

To this end, the Board of Trustees has decided to move servicing of the MPB to Fidelity. Effective December 2017, Fidelity will be the new provider of recordkeeping services for the MPB. Fidelity is already the provider of recordkeeping services for the MEBA 401(k) Plan. This means that after the consolidation, Fidelity will be the provider of recordkeeping services for both the MPB and MEBA 401(k) Plan.

IMPORTANT NOTES:

- These changes will simply be moving recordkeeping services of your MPB from your current provider (Vanguard) to Fidelity, effective December 2017.
- If you also have a current Fidelity MEBA 401(k) Plan account, no action is needed because these changes will not impact this Plan.

Let's take a closer look at how the investment options in the MPB will work, and what will be available.

Investment options

Overview

The investment options currently available to you will continue to be available after the transition to Fidelity.

Investment options

The MPB has a menu of investment options available. As mentioned above, these options currently available at Vanguard will also be available at Fidelity Investments.

Please refer to the following pages for information about the investment options that will be available when the consolidation is complete.

An important note regarding investment options by plan:

Please note that the investment options for the MPB are different from the MEBA 401(k) Plan. Contributions to the MPB cannot be invested in the options of the MEBA 401(k) Plan, and vice versa.

For example: Contributions to the MPB Plan at Fidelity cannot be invested in an investment option listed under the MEBA 401(k) Plan unless that investment option is also listed in the lineup for the MPB.

What you need to know

MPB Account (current provider of recordkeeping services - Vanguard):

No action is required on your part if you are comfortable with how your account balance is currently invested. Your current assets will transfer to the same fund at Fidelity. Keep in mind that now might be a good time to look at your situation and decide whether changes might be appropriate to better align your investment approach with your retirement goals. If you wish to make any changes prior to the transition, please contact Vanguard prior to the blackout date listed in the calendar found in this guide.

While many accounts may need to be liquidated and reinvested in the new investment option, MEBA may determine that a reregistration, or in-kind transfer, is appropriate. Please be aware that the transfer methodology may vary by individual investment option, and certain options may be out of the market for a day or more while others remain fully invested during the transition.

MEBA 401(k) Plan Account (current provider of recordkeeping services - Fidelity Investments):

No action is required. This Plan will remain at Fidelity. However, if you are not yet enrolled in the MEBA 401(k) Plan, now may be a good time to consider participation.

How to choose your investments

Before making your investment decisions, it is important that you become familiar with the various options in the MPB. Additional information regarding each investment option's risk, as well as its strategy and objective, can be found in the "Investment Descriptions" supplement provided with this guide. Please consider all investment information before choosing your investments.

For an explanation of your rights to direct investments, any Plan restrictions, and a description of the types of fees and expenses associated with your Plan account, refer to the enclosed Participant Disclosure Notice.

Before investing in any mutual fund, consider the investment objectives, risks, charges, and expenses. Contact Fidelity for a prospectus or, if available, a summary prospectus containing this information. Read it carefully.

The Plan is intended to be a participant-directed plan as described in Section 404(c) of ERISA, which means that fiduciaries of the Plan are ordinarily relieved of liability for any losses that are the direct and necessary result of investment instructions given by a participant or beneficiary.

Default investment option

The Board of Trustees has determined that current balances and future contributions to your account that you have not directed to a specific investment option in the Plan will be invested in the Vanguard Institutional Target Retirement Fund - Institutional Shares.

Your current account balances and future contributions will be invested in the target date fund that has a target retirement date closest to the year you might retire and assumes a retirement age of 65.

The Vanguard Institutional Target Retirement Fund is designed for investors expecting to retire around the year indicated in each fund's name. The funds are managed to gradually become more conservative over time as they approach the target date. The investment risk of each Vanguard Institutional Target Retirement Fund changes over time as the fund's asset allocation changes. The funds are subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments in the U.S. and abroad, and may be subject to risks associated with investing in high-yield, small-cap, and foreign securities. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the funds' target dates.

Please use the guidelines in the table below, as selected by the Board of Trustees, to determine in which Vanguard Institutional Target Retirement Fund your current account balances and future contributions will be invested.

Activity calendar

Please review this activity calendar to understand how your account may be affected during the transition period.

To ensure that all information is transferred accurately from your current MPB account at Vanguard to your new MPB account at Fidelity, there will be a period of time when you will be unable to direct or diversify investments in your individual accounts, or obtain a distribution from the Plan. This period during which you will be unable to exercise these rights otherwise available under the Plan is called a "blackout period." During the "blackout period," you will be unable to direct or diversify the assets held in your MPB account. For this reason, it is very important that you review and consider the appropriateness of your current investments in light of your inability to direct or diversify those investments during the "blackout period." If you have any questions or if you would like to make any changes to your MPB account at Vanguard before the start of the "blackout period," please call Vanguard before 4 p.m. Eastern time on November 27, 2017.

The "blackout period" for the Plan is expected to begin at 4 p.m. Eastern time on November 27, 2017, and end during the week of December 10, 2017. During these weeks, you can determine whether the "blackout period" has started or ended by calling Fidelity Investments at 866-84-UNION (866-848-6466).

This Participant Disclosure Notice provides certain information about your Plan. Your rights under the Plan are subject to the terms of the Plan. This Notice describes only your Fidelity account within the Plan.

Right to Direct Investments

You have the right to direct your account balance and any future contributions among the Plan's investment options, subject to any restrictions. To access your Plan account with Fidelity, make any changes to your investment options, direct any future contributions, or seek additional information, log on to www.netbenefits.com/meba or call 1-866-84-UNION (1-866-848-6466).

Investment Options

The Plan offers a choice of investment options that allow you to create a diversified portfolio to help you meet your individual needs. The Plan's investment options, along with certain information about each of them, can be found in the additional material included with this Notice.

Exercising Voting, Tender and Similar Rights

You have the right to exercise voting, tender, and similar rights related to the following investments you may have in your Plan account. You will receive information regarding such rights and how to exercise them at the time of a vote, tender, or other event:

- Mutual Funds

Fees and Expenses

If you have an account in the Plan, it may be subject to the following types of fees and expenses:

- Asset-based fees
- Plan administrative fees and expenses
- Individual fees and expenses

Asset-Based Fees

Asset-based fees reflect an investment option's total annual operating expenses and include management and other fees. They are often the largest component of retirement plan costs and are paid by all shareholders of the investment option. Typically, asset-based fees are reflected as a percentage of assets invested in the option and often are referred to as an "expense ratio." You may multiply the expense ratio by your balance in the investment option to estimate the annual expenses associated with your holdings.

Asset-based fees are deducted from an investment option's assets, thereby reducing its investment return. Fee levels can vary widely among investment options, depending in part on the type of investment option, its management (including whether it is active or passive), and the risks and complexities of the option's strategy. In some instances, a Plan's administrative services may be paid for through offsets and/or payments associated with a Plan's investment options.

Plan Administrative Fees and Expenses

Plan administrative fees may include recordkeeping, legal, accounting, trustee, and other administrative fees and expenses associated with maintaining the Plan. Some Plans may deduct these fees and expenses from individual accounts in the Plan.

Based on the information and direction Fidelity had at the time this Notice was prepared, the Plan administrative fees listed below may be deducted from accounts in the Plan. The Plan's administrative services may also be paid for through offsets and/or payments associated with one or more of the Plan's investment options. As you review this information, please keep in mind that fees are subject to change and that certain Plan administrative fees may not be deducted from accounts in certain circumstances.

Each participant's account will be charged an annual fee of $140 for plan recordkeeping and other administrative expenses. This will be charged to your plan account on a quarterly basis as follows:

Type of Plan Administrative Fee	Amount
Recordkeeping expenses	$10.87 per quarter
Other Plan administrative expenses	$24.13 per quarter

The amount of administrative expenses charged to your account may be adjusted from time to time. You will be provided notice in advance of any adjustment.

Your quarterly account statement will reflect the administrative charges to your account and a description of the related category of services (record keeping and other administrative expenses) to which the charge relates.

Individual Fees and Expenses

Individual fees and expenses include those associated with a service or transaction you may select, or an investment option you hold in your account. In some instances, they may be deducted from the accounts of those individuals who utilize the service or engage in the transaction.

If you have an account in the Plan, and you select or execute the following service(s) or transaction(s), the fee(s) outlined below may be deducted from your account based on the information and direction Fidelity had on file at the time this Notice was prepared. As you review this information, please keep in mind that fees are subject to change and that certain individual fees may not be deducted in some circumstances.

Type of Plan Administrative Fee	Amount
Overnight Mailing Fee	$25.00 per transaction

Also, please note you may incur short-term redemption fees in connection with transactions associated with your Plan's investment options.

If any individual fees are deducted directly from your account, they will be reflected on your Plan's account statement.
